

Thank You

We are grateful to the following donors, supporters, and sponsors who, in 2021, continued to champion trustworthy, fact-based journalism in a time of increasing misinformation and disinformation.

There has never been a more important time to get behind the future of journalism. Thank you for being part of Canada's conversation.

Publisher's Circle

The work of The Walrus is guided by our educational mandate. We rely on philanthropy and sponsorship to produce the highest-quality journalism and foster critical conversations through our national events. We are grateful to all of those who made our work possible in 2021.

2021 Fundraising Campaign

You Need Trustworthy Journalism, and Trustworthy Journalism Needs You

Our fall fundraising campaign is our most important call to action of the year. We rely on donations from hundreds of readers, whose generosity keeps the work of our writers and artists alive on our pages. We thank the 1,064 donors who responded to our request last year, resulting in over $155,000 raised to power independent journalism and storytelling.

The Walrus Editorial Fellowship Program

The Walrus is proud to support early career journalists on their professional journeys by training and mentoring fellows on fact-checking, research, writing, and editing. We thank the following donors for their investment in the future of journalism.

The Chawkers Foundation
Geoff Beattie and Amanda Lang
(Cannonbury Fellowship)
Justice Fund Toronto
Power Corporation of Canada
TD Bank Group

We thank Justice Fund Toronto for its support of our inaugural Writing Residency for Emerging Black Journalists, launched in 2021.
